LINCOLN MEMORIAL OF WASHINGTON, D.C.

INTRODUCTION

Lincoln Memorial, which is regarded as the permanent statue of the United States and the sign of the Washington city, was built to commemorate the sixteenth president of the United States, Abraham Lincoln. The memorial hall is located in the National Mall in western Washington, such as blue dye on the East Bank of the Potomac River, and the eastern end of the Houses of Parliament across the distant, is a city built with white marble and granite of the ancient Greek temple style Memorial hall.

The memorial hall broke ground in 1914 and was completed in 1922. The atmosphere of the memorial hall is solemn, and many tourists and students comes to this visit every day. The late president Lincoln is one of the most respected American presidents, and the people will not forget his contribution to the United States - emancipating slaves and maintaining United States unity. It is also from the lowest level of society that he sees the evils of slavery and the deceptive veil of "equality for all". Although he was brutally assassinated, his spirit will remain in the Lincoln Memorial.
